

□ Meeting Analysis Report

1. Summary

S1 Executive Summary:

S2 Vanessa from SpeakEnglishWithVinesa.com shares with you 10 phrases that she uses every day about her evening routine. She also gives you a free PDF worksheet with all of today's 10 important phrases, plus a little bonus or two bonuses in that worksheet. Vanessa will send the worksheet every week automatically to her e-mail inbox, so you don't have to sign up for another subscription. Next week's lesson will include a video with 10 useful phrases for doing household chores, a free worksheet and a 10-question quiz. The lesson will be on YouTube on Friday at 10 pm.

S3

S4 Key Takeaways:

S5 • Vanessa will send the worksheet every week automatically to her e-mail inbox, so you don't have to sign up for another subscription.

S6 • She also gives you a free PDF worksheet with all of today's 10 important phrases, plus a little bonus or two bonuses in that worksheet.

S7 • Next week's lesson will include a video with 10 useful phrases for doing household chores, a free worksheet and a 10-question quiz.

S8 • Vanessa from SpeakEnglishWithVinesa.com shares with you 10 phrases that she uses every day about her evening routine.

S9 • The lesson will be on YouTube on Friday at 10 pm.

2. Transcript + Sentiment

00:00 - 00:06 Oh, that hit the spot. Thank you. If I said that to you, would you know what I was talking about? → positive (74.8%)

00:07 - 00:12 If the answer is no, I would not know what you were talking about Vanessa. → negative (52.6%)

00:12 - 00:20 We'll never fear. In today's lesson, I am going to help you learn 10 phrases that I use every day → positive (73.5%)

00:20 - 00:28 about my evening routine. Hi, I'm Vanessa from SpeakEnglishWithVinesa.com. And here on this YouTube → neutral (80.7%)

00:28 - 00:36 channel, I help you to learn real life English. Plus, I have a special little gift for you. I have a → positive (89.1%)

00:36 - 00:46 free PDF worksheet with all of today's 10 important phrases, plus a little bonus or two bonuses → positive (64.2%)

00:46 - 00:55 in that worksheet. There are five extra bonus phrases for evening routines in that worksheet. → neutral (64.0%)

00:55 - 01:01 So you will learn 10 in this lesson, but there are five more included in this worksheet, → neutral (60.8%)

01:01 - 01:09 including what to say when you are just so tired at the end of the day. Plus, the second bonus in → negative (67.4%)

01:09 - 01:16 this worksheet is a 10 question quiz. Test yourself and see if you can really remember the → neutral (82.8%)

01:16 - 01:22 vocabulary that you're learning today. So all you have to do to download this free PDF worksheet → positive (56.4%)

01:22 - 01:28 is to click on the link in the description, enter your name and email address and voila, → neutral (86.9%)

01:28 - 01:34 just like that, the free PDF worksheet will land in your email inbox. Plus, you want to know → positive

(51.3%)

01:34 - 01:41 something cool? I will automatically send you every week my free PDF worksheets. You never have → positive (68.8%)

01:41 - 01:47 to sign up again. Just sign up once and I will continue to send them to you in your email inbox → neutral (80.4%)

01:47 - 01:52 every week. So click on the link in the description, get that free PDF worksheet, → neutral (56.6%)

01:52 - 01:59 five bonus phrases, and 10 question quiz. It is my gift to you. All right, let's get started → positive (90.4%)

01:59 - 02:09 with our first phrase about evening routines. The first phrase is to take a load off off of what? → neutral (85.0%)

02:09 - 02:15 Well, let me show you how I use this. It's the end of the day. I come home. I sit on the couch → neutral (74.4%)

02:16 - 02:21 and my neighbor knocks on the door and says, Vanessa, what are you doing? I say, oh, I'm just taking → neutral (70.7%)

02:21 - 02:29 a load off. It was a busy day. This means I am putting my feet up. The weight of my body is resting → neutral (65.2%)

02:29 - 02:38 on the couch. The load of my body is resting on the couch. Oh, I'm just taking a load off. Notice that → neutral (61.7%)

02:38 - 02:45 with this phrase, we don't add anything after it. We don't say I'm taking a load off on the couch → neutral (60.9%)

02:45 - 02:54 or something like this. We just simply say, oh, I need to take a load off. My body is exhausted. → negative (78.1%)

02:54 - 02:59 This is a wonderful phrase to use at the end of the day, especially if you're physically tired → positive (95.0%)

02:59 - 03:03 and all you can imagine is just laying on the couch. It's so great. → positive (98.7%)

03:03 - 03:10 Frazee number two about evening routines that I use every day is this one to change into → neutral (90.3%)

03:10 - 03:19 comfy clothes. What's that word comfy? Well, it is a shortened version of the word comfortable, → neutral (60.8%)

03:19 - 03:26 but in daily life, we often just say comfy, especially for something that's soft and cozy, → positive (76.4%)

03:26 - 03:33 maybe a blanket, maybe some clothes that you might wear at the end of the day. So you could say → neutral (88.6%)

03:33 - 03:40 just like me, when I get home, I take off my work clothes and put on comfy clothes, → positive (58.1%)

03:40 - 03:47 or I change into comfy clothes at the end of the day. Maybe that's something that's less rigid, → neutral (50.9%)

03:47 - 03:54 it's less structured. If you have to wear specific work clothes, maybe it's something clean and → neutral (75.2%)

03:54 - 04:02 soft and comfy. Frazee number three that I use every day in the evening is a fun one. It's kind of a → positive (95.5%)

04:02 - 04:08 two for one, and it's this. When I see my husband at the end of the day, sometimes I use this phrase, → neutral (72.9%)

04:08 - 04:16 you have to hear what happened today, or you'll never believe what happened today. These fun → neutral (44.7%)

04:16 - 04:23 introductions can be great for starting a conversation about something surprising that happened →

positive (93.6%)

04:23 - 04:28 to you during the day. So for me and for my husband as well, if something surprising happened during → neutral (80.2%)

04:28 - 04:33 the day, we can't wait to talk about it. You'll never believe what happened today. I was walking → positive (67.8%)

04:33 - 04:38 down the street, and I talked to my neighbor, and my kid, and this dog, and then you go into the → neutral (84.6%)

04:38 - 04:45 story. You'll never believe what happened today. I can't wait to tell you. Frazee number four is a → positive (85.2%)

04:45 - 04:52 very realistic one. So let's say that I tell my husband, you have to hear what happened today. But → neutral (77.6%)

04:52 - 04:56 then our three kids come in, and they're making a lot of noise and mess, and they want to tell us → negative (48.3%)

04:56 - 05:01 about their day, and then we're cooking dinner, and it's just too busy. Well, my husband might say to → neutral (54.4%)

05:01 - 05:09 me, let's catch up after the kids go to bed. Let's catch up later. This phrasal verb to catch up → neutral (72.7%)

05:09 - 05:15 means to learn some news about someone else. So you might say this to your friend, if you haven't → neutral (83.2%)

05:15 - 05:21 seen them for a while, you might say, hey, when I go get some coffee and catch up, you're not trying → neutral (58.7%)

05:21 - 05:26 to catch something. You're just learning about someone else because maybe you haven't talked to them → neutral (63.1%)

05:26 - 05:33 for a while. So I guess my shocking, amazing news that you just have to hear is going to have to → positive (76.6%)

05:33 - 05:38 wait until later because we have to catch up after the kids go to bed when our house is more quiet. → neutral (76.3%)

05:39 - 05:47 Frazee number five that I use pretty much every day, and you can too, is I'm wiped out. → negative (47.2%)

05:49 - 05:56 If you are absolutely exhausted, you have been going from one thing to the next solving → negative (80.7%)

05:56 - 06:02 problems all the time, whether it's at your job, with your kids, with your work, in your neighborhood, → negative (68.8%)

06:02 - 06:09 in your community. By the end of the day, you just want to take a load off because you are wiped out. → negative (84.9%)

06:10 - 06:16 I'm wiped out. So sometimes this happens at our house where I have an idea planned for dinner, → negative (54.1%)

06:16 - 06:20 and my kids come home and say, mom, can we have this for dinner, this other thing? And I say, → neutral (81.6%)

06:21 - 06:28 oh, kids, sorry, I am wiped out. I'm going to make this simple dinner because I cannot handle → negative (91.5%)

06:28 - 06:33 making something more complicated right now, maybe on the weekend. Right now, I'm wiped out. → negative (83.0%)

06:34 - 06:41 Talking about dinner, number six is dinner's almost ready. Usually I say it in that tone of voice. → neutral (75.8%)

06:41 - 06:47 Dinner's almost ready and it implies you need to finish what you're doing. If you're a kid, → neutral (75.3%)

06:47 - 06:54 you need to come in and wash your hands. You need to get prepared for the next step because → neutral (78.7%)

06:54 - 07:00 I have been working hard on dinner. So you need to come to the table. Dinner's almost ready. Great phrase. → positive (94.0%)

07:00 - 07:08 phrase number seven that I try to use every day. Sometimes I fail, but I try to. It is, can someone help → neutral (45.8%)

07:08 - 07:16 set the table? Setting the table means you're putting plates, forks, knives, cups, whatever you need → neutral (89.5%)

07:16 - 07:23 on the table. Now sometimes I forget to ask my kids to do this, which it's a good kid job → positive (53.5%)

07:23 - 07:28 to set the table, but sometimes I forget. And so I just throw everything on the table, put it → negative (57.3%)

07:28 - 07:36 together myself, but if I have a moment of clarity, I try to ask this question, can someone help me → neutral (81.9%)

07:36 - 07:41 set the table so that everything's ready? I just put the food on the table and everyone can eat. → neutral (67.5%)

07:42 - 07:48 phrase number eight also has to do with food, which is a big part of our evening, right? → neutral (67.3%)

07:48 - 07:56 It is wash up. It's time to eat. Wash up. It's time to eat. I'm telling this as a declaration. → neutral (73.7%)

07:56 - 08:02 You need to do this. Wash up. Now this is an interesting phrasal verb because in the US, → positive (50.9%)

08:02 - 08:09 wash up means your hands. You need to wash your hands. If I tell you wash up, → neutral (59.5%)

08:09 - 08:15 I'm not talking about the dishes. In the UK, in British English, → neutral (66.1%)

08:15 - 08:23 this phrasal verb wash up is often used with the dishes. I need to do the washing up. → neutral (62.7%)

08:23 - 08:30 In the US, we never say this. We always mean your hands when we say wash up. Wash up, it's time → negative (47.3%)

08:30 - 08:37 to eat. For my kids, they are most likely outside digging in a pile of dirt trying to find bugs → negative (60.0%)

08:37 - 08:43 and worms and they're messy and dirty. So this is an essential phrase in my house. Wash up. → negative (58.6%)

08:43 - 08:49 It's time to eat. phrase number nine that we try to use every day during dinner is this one. → neutral (87.1%)

08:50 - 08:59 Can you pass the please or can you please pass the salt? Can you please pass the vegetables? Can you please → neutral (73.9%)

08:59 - 09:07 pass the bread? This phrase is a polite way to ask someone to give you something. In the US, → neutral (74.5%)

09:07 - 09:14 it's considered rude to reach across the table or in front of someone to get a dish or to get → negative (75.7%)

09:14 - 09:20 something at the table. So by using this phrase, you are being polite in your words and also with → neutral (65.8%)

09:20 - 09:27 your body. This is something we're trying to teach my kids. If they just shout out, I need some water. → neutral (59.7%)

09:27 - 09:33 We try to tell them, hey, can you say that again in a polite way and they will use this phrase → neutral

(76.0%)

09:33 - 09:40 after they think about it? Oh, can I please have some water? What a wonderful phrase. Can you please
→ positive (86.9%)

09:40 - 09:48 pass the water? Oh, I love it. It's so polite. And our final phrase that I use every day is one → positive
(97.9%)

09:48 - 09:57 that you heard at the beginning of today's lesson. That hit the spot. Are we talking about hitting → neutral
(72.9%)

09:57 - 10:06 punching something? Nope. Instead, we're talking about eating some food that was exactly the food →
neutral (50.0%)

10:06 - 10:13 that you needed. Let's imagine it is a hot summer day like it is today. And you have been outside →
positive (58.4%)

10:13 - 10:19 walking around gardening, taking your dog for a walk. You are hot and sweaty and you come inside →
neutral (63.1%)

10:19 - 10:28 for dinner. And there is a fresh salad with some beautiful, fresh vegetables, a cool glass of water →
positive (94.4%)

10:28 - 10:34 right there. That is exactly what your body needs at that moment. So when you finish dinner, → neutral
(53.9%)

10:34 - 10:41 if you want to say something kind to the person who prepared it, you can say, that hit the spot. → neutral
(58.5%)

10:41 - 10:48 A wonderful phrase to say. Well, thank you for learning these 10 evening routine phrases with me. →
positive (98.8%)

10:48 - 10:54 I want to know in the comments. Will you tell me what do you do for your evening routine? Could →
neutral (91.1%)

10:54 - 11:01 you use any of today's phrases? And don't forget to download the free PDF worksheet where you will →
neutral (66.5%)

11:01 - 11:09 find five bonus phrases including what can you say when you are so tired, you are just ready to go →
neutral (60.2%)

11:09 - 11:15 to bed. What can you say? Well, there's a fun phrase waiting for you in that free PDF worksheet →
positive (86.1%)

11:15 - 11:22 a bonus phrase plus a second bonus, which is a 10 question quiz. Test yourself and see if you can →
neutral (80.0%)

11:22 - 11:28 remember the phrases that you learned today, so that when you are explaining and talking about your →
neutral (83.0%)

11:28 - 11:33 evening routines in English, you have the vocabulary ready to use. You can click on the link in the →
neutral (76.2%)

11:33 - 11:40 description, enter your name and email address, voila, you will receive this free PDF worksheet →
positive (54.8%)

11:40 - 11:47 five bonus phrases, 10 quiz questions in your email inbox, and I will continue to send you every →
neutral (65.2%)

11:47 - 11:53 week my free PDF worksheets automatically. You never have to sign up again. How cool is that? →
positive (96.4%)

11:53 - 11:59 So thank you so much for learning English with me, and I will see you again next Friday for a new →
positive (99.0%)

11:59 - 12:06 lesson here on my YouTube channel. Bye. But wait, do you want more? I recommend watching this video
→ positive (86.2%)

12:06 - 12:14 next where you will learn 10 important phrases for doing household chores. These phrases I use every → neutral (72.7%)

12:14 - 12:22 day and so can you, including what to say when other people in your house maybe aren't doing the right → negative (52.5%)

12:22 - 12:29 amount of chores to help you out. If you want them to help with chores more, what can you say in → neutral (84.4%)

12:29 - 12:39 English? Well, you'll have to watch that video to find out, and I'll see you there. → neutral (82.8%)

3. Sentiment Overview

Sentiment Overview

4. Deepfake Detection

Total Frames Checked: 26

Fake Frames Detected: 0

Fake Percentage: 0.00%

Deepfake Detection Chart

Deepfake Detection

Total Frames: 26

Fake Frames: 0

Fake %: 0.00%

Real (15%)	Real (24%)	Real (40.7%)	Real (14.1%)	Real (9.8%)	Real (11.1%)
Real (23.7%)	Real (32.9%)	Real (14%)	Real (12.8%)	Real (31.8%)	Real (11%)
Real (3.7%)	Real (31.4%)	Real (13.5%)	Real (21.7%)	Real (10.5%)	Real (25.1%)
Real (5.5%)	Real (8.8%)	Real (32.4%)	Real (31%)	Real (28.2%)	Real (36.5%)
Real (29.6%)	Real (3%)				